"Daddy, can I learn to play the violin?" little Jenny asked her father. She was always asking for things and her father was not very pleased.

"You cost me a lot of money, Jenny," he said.
"First you wanted to learn horseback riding, then dancing, then swimming. Now it's the violin."

"I'll play every day, Daddy," Jenny said. "I'll try very hard."

"All right," her father said. "I'll pay for you to have lessons for six weeks. At the end of six weeks you must play something for me. Play well, and you can have more lessons. If not, I will stop the lessons."

"OK, Daddy," Jenny said. "That's fair."

He soon found a good violin teacher and Jenny began her lessons. The teacher was very expensive, but her father kept his promise.

The six weeks passed quickly. The time came for Jenny to play for her father.

She went to the living room and said, "I'm ready to play for you, Daddy."

"Fine, Jenny," her father said. "Begin."

She began to play. She played very terribly. She made a terrible noise.

Her father had one of his friends with him, and the friend put his hands over his ears.

When Jenny finished, her father said, "Well done, Jenny. You can have more lessons."

Jenny ran happily out of the room. Her father's friend turned to him.

"You've spent a lot of money, but she still plays very badly," he said.

"Well, that's true," her father said. "But since she started learning the violin, I've been able to buy five apartments in this building very cheaply. In another six weeks, I'll own the whole building!"

44. From this story, what didn't Jenny learn?
(A) Swimming (B) Biking
(C) Dancing (D) Horseback riding
45. Why did Jenny's father agree to give her more violin lessons?
(A) Because she played it so well.
(B) Because she needed more practice.
(C) Because she was so interested in learning.
(D) Because he could buy more apartments cheaply.

_____ 班 _____ 號 姓名 _____

46. Which of the followings is true?
- (A) The piano teacher wasn't expensive at all.
 (B) Both of Jenny's father and his friend like Jenny's performance.
 (C) Some neighbors in this building sold their apartments to Jenny's father.
 (D) Jenny spent little of her father's money on learning things.

When I was a kid, I delivered newspapers in my neighborhood every day. One Saturday afternoon, my friend and I were bored; we randomly picked an old lady's house to be part of our game of throwing stones. To us, the stones turned into missiles as they rolled to the roof and shot out into the yard.

I found a stone and sent it for a ride to the lady's roof. However, the stone was too smooth for me to hold firmly, so it slipped out of my hand when I threw it. To my shock, it broke a small window of the lady's house. On hearing the sound, we decided to escape right away.

For the next few days, I felt so worried about getting caught that I was afraid to think of the old lady or her broken window at all. Several days later, when I was sure that I wasn't in any trouble, I started to feel guilty. Every day, the lady greeted me with a smile when I handed her the paper, but I no longer felt comfortable in front of her.

Finally, I made up my mind to save the money that I made from delivering newspapers. I thought that seven dollars would cover the cost of fixing her window, and in three weeks, I had the money ready. I wrote a note that said, "I am sorry for breaking your window. I hope that the money will cover the cost of fixing it." Then, I put the money and the note into an envelope. When it was dark, I put the envelope under her door quietly. After I did so, I felt relaxed and couldn't wait to be able to look her straight in the eye again.

The next day, I handed the old lady her paper and happily returned the warm smile that I received from her. She thanked me for the paper and gave me a bag of cookies. I thanked her and then continued my job. When I was enjoying the cookies, I found an envelope inside the bag. I opened it up and felt very surprised. In the envelope, I found seven dollars and a short note that said, "I'm proud of you."

deliver 發送 randomly 隨機 missile 飛彈 slip 滑 guilty 罪惡的

47. What does the word escape mean?
 (A) leave (B) stay (C) check (D) excite
48. Why was the old lady proud of the boy?
 (A) He was talented. (B) He was friendly.
 (C) He was honest. (D) He was hard-working.
49. What is the main idea of the story?
 (A) Paying back the money is the best way to say sorry.
 (B) When you forget about others' error, you will be happier.
 (C) People need to make money when they are young.
 (D) It's never too late to admit your fault or mistake.
50. According to the story, which of the following is true?
 (A) The boys threw stones at the old lady's house because they didn't like her.
 (B) The old lady forgave the boy and treated him to some cookies in the end.
 (C) The boy said sorry to the old lady right after he broke her window.
 (D) The old lady fixed her broken window with the money the boy gave her.

一、辨識句意：選出符合句子描述的圖片：

1. Peter and Judy are volunteering at the senior center.
2. You couldn't enter the room because you pushed the wrong buttons.
3. Let's us work together. I can paint the pipes, and you can paint the bench.
4. Because of COVID-19, we didn't go to school, and we even had a test online.
5. The teacher is standing and all of the seats in the classroom are being used by the students.

二、聽 CD 中的句子，選出最適當的回應句：

6. What can we do at a children's home?
7. What happened to Cody's hand?
8. I'd like to know whether it will rain tomorrow or not.
9. Who saved the soldier yesterday?
10. Can you tell me where the restaurant is?

三、言談理解：根據聽到的內容，選出一個最適合的答案：

【錄音時，W 代表女音 M 代表男音】

11.

M: Excuse me, Ms. Wu. I have to go to the computer classroom now.

W: You have computer class today?

M: No, actually it is music class. Today, the teacher wants us to make a song with the computer by ourselves. That's why we go there today.

W: Okay, I see. Sounds like you are excited about the class.

Q: Which class is the boy going to take next?

12

M: Excuse me. I am not from this town and I am lost. I need to find the way back to my hotel, but I can't find any policeman nearby. Could you help me?

W: What's the name of your hotel?

M: It is called Vicky's Dream House. Do you have any idea?

W: Hmm... I am not very sure. I've never heard of that one. Maybe you can ask the shopkeeper over there for help. He knows a lot about this neighborhood. I believe he can help you.

M: Okay, I'll do that. Thanks a lot.

Q: What is the man going to do?

13.

M: Where were you last night, Sandy? I didn't see you at the party.

W: I had an accident on the road. A young man was using a cellphone while riding his scooter. I didn't notice that, and then I was hit.

M: It is really dangerous to ride and use the cellphone at the same time.

W: Yes, it really is.

M: Did you get hurt? Were you sent to the hospital?

W: No, but I was so scared that I went back home to rest.

Q: Where was Sandy last night?

14.

M: You are late, Judy. Don't you know what time it is?

W: Sorry, Mr. Lin. I stayed up late studying for the history test last night, and I didn't hear the alarm clock ring this morning. What's more, I missed the school bus.

M: Staying up late is not good for your health. You should go to bed earlier.

W: Sorry. I promise I won't do that again.

Q: What does Mr. Lin tell Judy to do?

15.

W: Who made the dishes? They look so yummy.

M: They were made by my grandfather. He was a great chef when he was young.

W: How lucky you are! You can always try a lot of different delicious food at home.

M: Yes, you can say that again. In fact, I've gained a lot of weight because of the food.

Q: Which is true?
