Do you know where the milk you drink comes from? Did you know only happy cows make good quality milk? Great Milk would love to share our knowledge about milk and help you get the fresh milk from the best dairy farms.

Taiwan is quite lucky to have farms that are able to produce a lot of good milk. However, around three-quarters of the dairy market is controlled by big companies. Sadly, many small dairy farmers are forced to sell their milk to them at very low prices. It's quite hard for them to make a living that way, so they need other ways of selling their milk.

Great Milk hopes to change that by building a bridge between the small dairy farmers and you. Go to our website, www.greatmilk.com.tw, to meet our nice hard-working farmers. When you are there, you can easily place an order for their great fresh milk.

Dear Martha,

After checking on the Internet, I think we'd better make some changes to our vacation to Bear Island next month.

First, I know we plan to visit the Music Festival at Rainbow Beach on the second day of our trip. However, I found this year's festival would end on the day before we arrive. That leaves us no choice but to change our schedule.

Second, Joy Farm in Guava Town seems like an interesting place. There, we can experience something new, like riding horses and milking cows. If you're interested, I'll put the visit to the farm on the third day because it only opens on weekends. Then, we can enjoy the beautiful views of the rose garden in Peach Town on the second day.

The last change is about the ferry we plan to take to leave Bear Island on the fourth day. Since we will arrive late at night on the first day, we won't have any time to look around Apple Town after checking in at the hotel. That's why I'd like to do it on the last day and take the last ferry in place of the first one.

Please take a look at the new schedule and tell me what you think.

Love,

Vicky
