(2) A man walked into a pet shop with a large and ugly dog. He said to the shop owner, "I want to sell this dog. He is clean, well-behaved(行為良好) and healthy." The shop owner looked carefully at the dog, shook his head and said, "I'm sorry. I can't give you anything for it. No one will want to buy it. He has no tail, his legs are too short, and his hair is too long. Who would like to buy such an ugly dog?"

"Well, I guess you are right," the man said. "But he can talk." The pet shop owner began to feel interested. Then to his surprise, the dog began to talk.

"I am the world's greatest talking dog. I have been to the USA and talked to the president at the White House. I've talked to the Queen of England and the Emperor of Japan. This man treats me very badly. I don't get enough food and exercise every day. He also makes me do lots of hard work. Please buy me and find a good home for me."

The shop owner could hardly believe what he was hearing. He said, "That's amazing. He is a talking dog. But tell me why you want to sell him."

"Because I'm tired of all his lies," the man said.

48. What did the dog owner want to do?

- (A) He wanted to make his dog beautiful.

Yesterday afternoon, when I was watching TV in the living room, my daughter, Emily, came and asked me if she herself could make a cake. I was wondering whether she was hungry or not, but she said no. After a short talk, I decided to let her make one. Why? This Saturday is her classmate, Sally's birthday. Neither Sally's father nor her mother can make her a cake. Her father is very sick in the hospital and her mother has to stay at the hospital to take care of him. Sally is alone at home. How sweet my daughter is! I am really proud of her. I also told Emily to invite Sally to come to our house on Saturday. I will cook some delicious food and all our family can celebrate the birthday for Sally together.
